

Illinois Prairie Weavers

Publicity/Social Media Chair Responsibilities

In General

The Guild believes that its vitality is dependent upon attracting new members and participating in textile arts beyond ourselves. To this end, the Publicity/Social Media Committee Chair (the "Publicity Chair") is appointed by the President to be responsible for generating public awareness of the Guild to promote fiber arts and build membership and participation. There is no term limit.

As a Committee Chair of the Guild, the Publicity Chair is responsible for doing this job on behalf of the entire Guild, and is also a member of the Board (see job description) and expected to attend and actively participate in those meetings.

The Publicity Chair may seek volunteers to serve as a committee, if this would help with publicity and social media responsibilities.

Specific Duties

Take possession of publicity records from the prior Publicity Chair as soon as possible after you begin to serve. Organize them for yourself and make sure you have any supplies or checklists you need.

Attend the July organizational meeting with the entire Board to plan the coming year. Meet with the outgoing Publicity Chair to learn specifics about doing the job, or train your successor.

Attend monthly Guild and Board meetings, reporting as Publicity Chair and obtaining any input or assistance you need. Announce opportunities for members to demonstrate weaving at community events.

Create a brochure early each year with general information and a list of meetings and workshops for the year. Coordinate the distribution of it throughout our neighborhoods (stores, libraries, etc.).

Print or reprint Guild business cards as needed for use by members, especially when members are attending conferences.

Write press releases about Guild meetings and events and submit them to local newspapers.

Contact regional weaving guilds (coordinate with the First Vice President) so that our meetings are announced in their newsletters and meetings.

Monitor online guild listings (HGA, MWA, etc.) for accuracy once or twice each year.

Attend to social media for the Guild, or coordinate these activities if others are doing them.

Think creatively about how to increase awareness of the Guild. Be open to new ideas and opportunities (such as summer conferences) to spread the word about who we are and all that we do. For example, consider whether Guild members would like to participate in a display of handwoven in a local library or similar location.

Submit any expenses to the Treasurer for reimbursement.

Submit estimated costs of next year's publicity and social media to the Treasurer by March to be included in next year's budget.

Make a written summary report to the Executive Committee in June.

Make a detailed checklist, and update it regularly, for doing this job. Use it to supplement this job descriptions and to train your successor.

Review this job description (and any checklists) for any updates you can recommend (Documents Chair) to improve or clarify it for future volunteers recruited.

Keep good records and train your successor.
